

Cackle

It was the sound my mother made when she was happy and playful with all the children in her life; a high pitched, back of the throat witches brew love cackle that I copied later for my kids.
She had us under her spell using no gadgets or money, just an oven warm kitchen and that deeply human bond.